To Whom It May Concern,

It is with pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Ms. Lark West. I have gotten to know Lark over the last year as her Practicum Supervisor at The Chicago School of Professional Psychology. Lark possesses many personal qualities that will make her an asset to any organization. She consistently displays initiative and is a highly personable, creative, and empathetic individual. Lark is very motivated to succeed, actively seeks out new experiences, pursues supervision appropriately, and uses feedback to improve her performance.

As a practicum student, Lark is gaining experiences with a wide range of individuals within a diverse population. At this point, she has demonstrated the ability to complete high quality graduate-level work and in a timely and efficient manner. She participates in class discussions, makes thoughtful comments, and is able to accurately communicate complex information.

Overall, Lark had demonstrated that she is a hard-working, reliable individual who is a welcomed addition to my courses. I imagine that she will bring these characteristics to whatever tasks she undertakes. Based on my experience teaching Lark, I believe she will be an excellent intern and asset to your organization.

Sincerely,
