----- SNL Degree Conferred:

This degree is awarded through the School for New Learning (SNL) upon completion of 50 degree requirements presented as statements describing competence. Students work with a faculty mentor and a professional advisor, who is an expert in a designated individualized focus of study, in a committee format to plan a program of completion. Degree requirements are satisfied by relevant DePaul courses, transfer coursework, and college-level learning through documented experiences.

Requirements are organized in a framework of 3 areas:

- 1) The Lifelong Learning Area contains 12 requirements satisfied by a sequence of required courses that develop skills in critical thinking, writing, research, collaborative learning, analytical and decision-making, and culminate in two significant, faculty-supervised independent projects.
- 2) The Liberal Learning Area contains 26 requirements organized in 3 categories. The Arts and Ideas category includes the arts, philosophy, theology, literature, and fields that focus on expression of values and aesthetics. The Human Community category includes human relations, history, political science, psychology, sociology, and other fields closely aligned with the development and maintenance of human society. The Scientific World category includes fields and skills related to inquiry in the natural sciences, technology, and the interrelationship of science, technology and society.
- 3) The Individualized Focus Area which contains 12 requirements defining a personalized concentration developed with and assessed by the professional advisor to meet professional goals.
